Supporting a child through Mission Impact's Sowing Hope Sponsorship program is a powerful way to offer hope and opportunity to a Guatemalan child and family in need. Child sponsorship enables children from poor villages to attend school, and receive a quality education based on the Word of God. Our program promotes the long-term development of children and families in Guatemala, and creates a personal connection between you and your sponsored child.

Children who attend one of Mission Impact's partner schools learn about Jesus Christ and the salvation He offers, and also receive an education that will help them break out of the cycle of poverty. Your sponsorship enable students to receive special training in computers, English, home economics, music and more. This will help students obtain better jobs and help support their families in the future.
